UC Davis	Sacramento, CA	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/>	The School of Nursing seeks to provide full disclosure for individuals who are undocumented: Undocumented applicants to the school's clinical programs (physician assistant, nurse practitioner and entry-level nursing) must apply for a Childhood Arrival (DACA) work permit and a Social Security number, which are required for licensure exams upon graduation. At this time, regulations governing clinical practice require licensure boards to use Social Security numbers to identify exam applicants. Without a social security number, students are unable to sit for licensure exams upon graduation. A Social Security number is also required for some clinical placements.

All qualified applicants accepted to the program are required to satisfactorily pass a background check.
